

other was added by relation, in the evening. Some of those who were baptized on both occasions were of last winter's converts and some came forward later.

The baptismal scene at Wilshire yesterday was something new to the people there. A number said they never saw baptism administered that way before. One man asked brother John Tarr, one of our deacons, what denomination this was. Brother Tarr said, "the Brethren." He said, "well I never saw baptism performed that way before, but it's right."

We began our second term with the brethren at Bethel Saturday evening, the 29th inst. May the Giver of all good bless the work of this year, and make it still more successful.

PROGRAM COM.

In this day of valuable helps without unnumber there is little or no excuse for being a poor workman, particularly in Christian work.

Beware the fury of patient men.—Dryden.

THE BRETHREN AT MARION.

With the hope of holding whatever advantage we have at Marion, Ind., I preached three nights for them recently. Because of a short notice and other hindrances the attendance was not what we had hoped to see. We occupied the Disciple church.

There are eighteen or twenty members who are yet faithful. The element that has been causing more or less disturbance has left the Brethren and the remnant would be a credit to any church. I tried to show them how they could be at work preparing a great harvest for some one to reap.

Had the Mission Board consented to rent them a hall which could have been done for eight dollars per month, the members by this time would be paying the rent themselves, even without additions which might have come in during the meeting which could have been held. I hope they will remain faithful and a better day will come.
